YOU ARE INVITED

Restitution in California

Victims who suffer economic loss as the result of a crime are entitled to restitution for those losses. Marsy's Law, passed in 2008, solidified rights to restitution by making it a part of the California Constitution.

It can be a challenge navigating the system and determining what roles different agencies fulfill in ordering and collecting restitution. The presentation Restitution in California, given by the VCGCB, will help explain procedures, laws, and terms. It will also give you an opportunity to ask questions and clarify what you may ask for and what may be asked of you.

AGENDA

- Introduction to the Victim Compensation & Government Claims Board (VCGCB) and the Victim Compensation Program (Cal VCP)
- Victim's Rights to Restitution
- Cal VCP's Role in Restitution
- Restitution Laws and Obligations
- Determination of a Victim's Losses
- Restitution Collection – Procedures and Practices
